Information for Contributors

- 1. Academic integrity. Contributor bears the responsibility to inform JCHE editors of any similar work that has been published or is being considered elsewhere. Manuscripts that have been published or are currently being reviewed elsewhere are not considered to submit to this journal. Authors should acknowledge all sources of data used in the research and cite publications properly.
- 2. Review process. To facilitate the blind review process, the author's name should not appear on the title page; all identifying information should be removed from the body of the paper. All properly submitted manuscripts will be sent out for peer review shortly after receipt. Authors will be informed of the status of their article once the peer reviews have been received and processed. Reviewer comments will be shared with the author. Once an article has been accepted for publication, a publication fee of NT$ 3000 will be charged to the author. Further instructions regarding revision and submission of the final copy will be sent directly to the author.
- 3. Language. Manuscripts only written in English will be accepted for review. If English is not the first language of the author, the author may want to have the manuscript edited for language use prior to submission. This may prevent misunderstandings of the research or the content of the paper by the journal editors and reviewers.
- 4. Length & Style. An English manuscript should not exceed 10,000 words, and should be accompanied by abstracts of no more than 300 words. Three to five key words should be supplied with the abstracts. All English manuscripts must be typewritten throughout (including references, notes, citations, figures and tables) on one side only of A4 paper with the default margins of Word 2003/ 2007/ 2010, and single-spaced. Times New Roman 12 must be used as the font. The journal mainly follows the style guidelines of the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (APA) or Modern Language Association (MLA).

- 5. Copyright and permissions. Copies of any letters granting permission to use or reproduce copyrighted materials are the author's responsibility and should be submitted with the manuscript. Also, the editors have the right to make editorial changes in any manuscript accepted for publication. As soon as the paper has been accepted for publication, the author(s) of each article will receive three complimentary copy of the issue in which the article is published and the e-copy of paper in its PDF version upon publication.

- 6. Place of submission. Manuscripts for publication and any related correspondence should be addressed to the chief editor of Journal of Christian Higher Education jche@cct.edu.tw. Each submission must include the following:

 - (a) Basic Information Form
 - (b) JCHE Contributor's Declaration Form
 - (c) JCHE Copyright Authorization Form and the submitted manuscript.

- 7. All the forms are available at the CCT JCHE web site.
